

The 2016 BostonU iGEM team had weekly group meetings on Mondays beginning at 9 a.m. over summer. None of us would consider ourselves early birds so these meetings were never our favorite event. To lighten up everyone's day we started each presentation with a meme. Here is our collection. As you remember your iGEM experience or your current status if you're in iGEM currently (best of luck!), maybe you can relate with some of them.

May 31

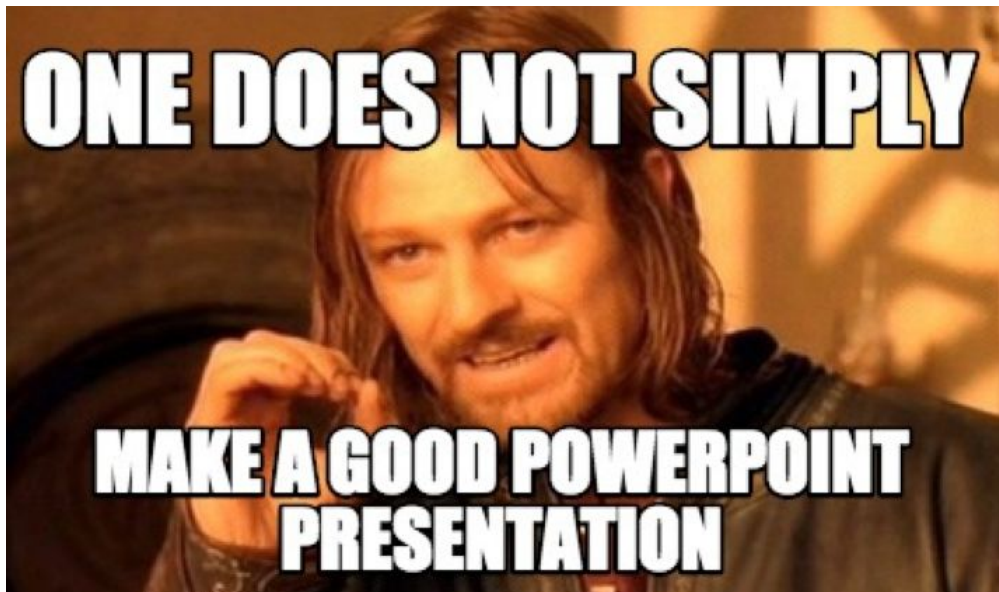

June 6

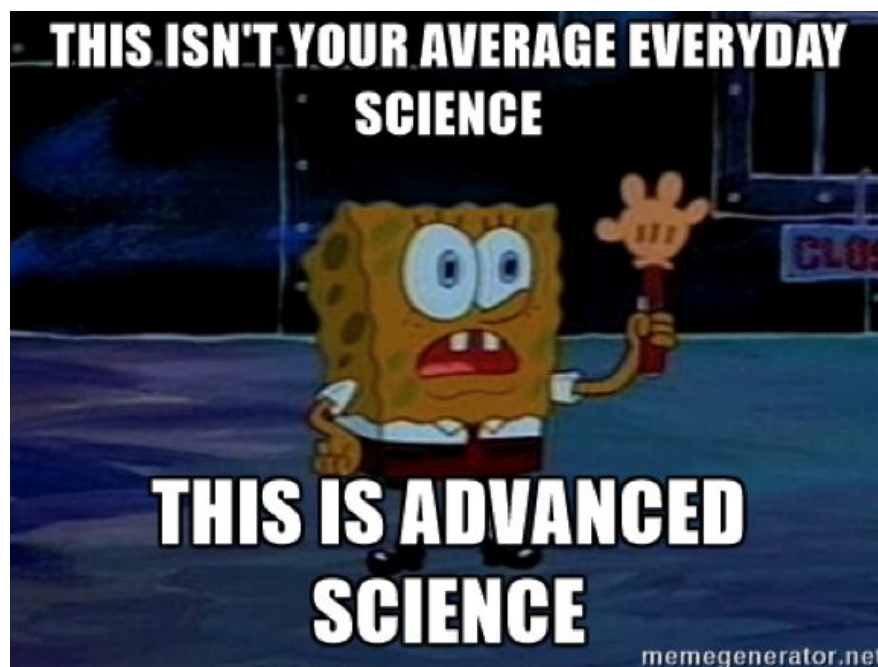

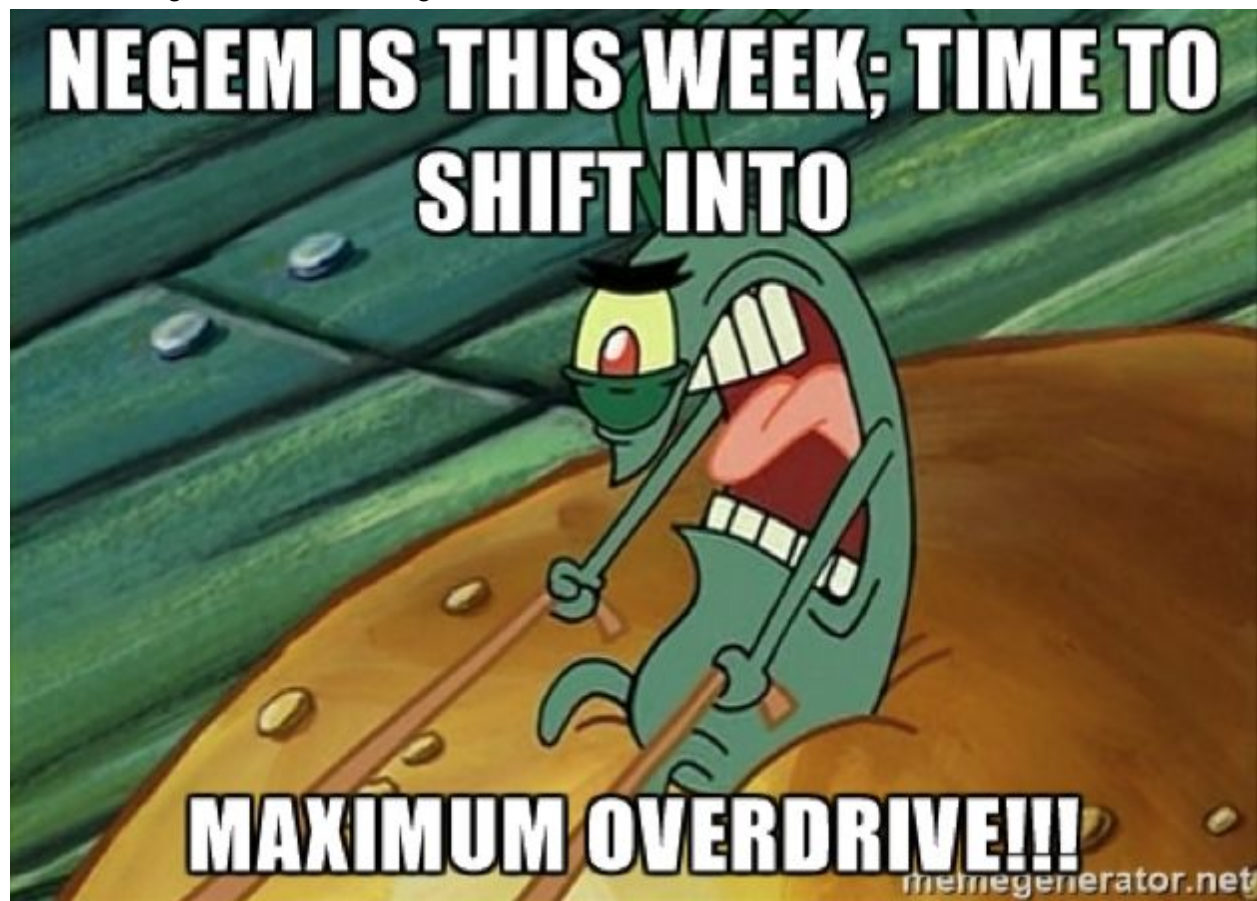

We inserted the following YouTube video: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=IKy0SP8ScAk>
Twentieth Century Fox Theme on a Sax by ChapmaniacPictures

June 13

Our personal favorite (we actually included it in some of our weekly presentations to explain transient transfection :) )

The New England iGEM meeting

June 22

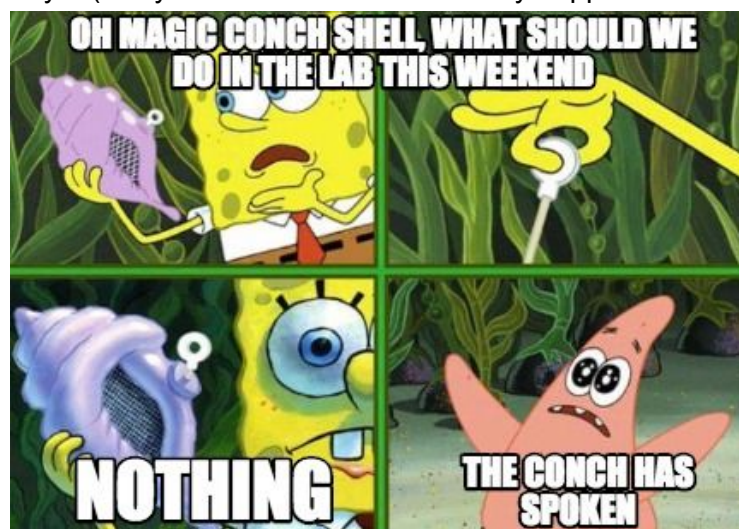

June 27

July 5 (sadly this next one didn't actually happen. We were in the lab all weekend)

July 11

When half the team left

July 25

Rachel (Galinda)

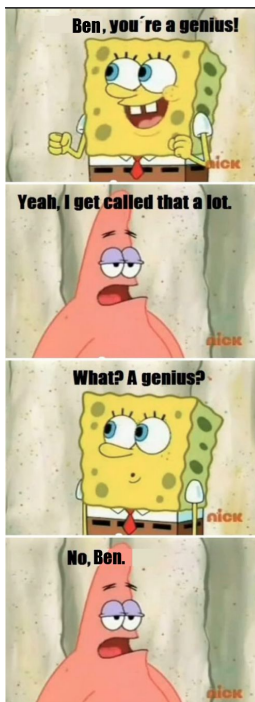

Will

August 1st

US AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SUMMER

US AT THE END

HOW WE'RE HANDLING OUR LIVES

WHEN ITS THE SECOND WEEK OF AUGUST AND THE SAME TWO CLONINGS KEEP FAILING

August 22nd

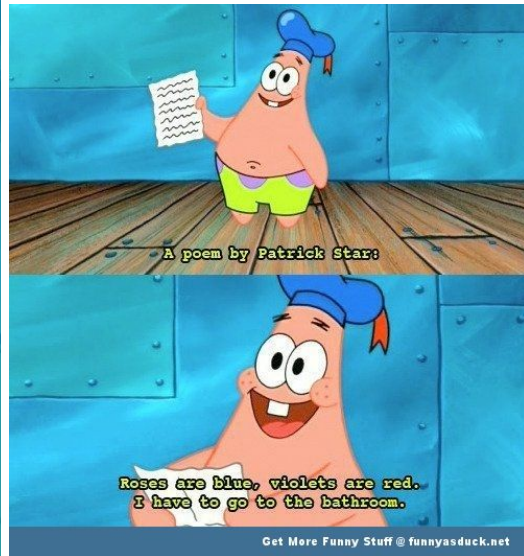

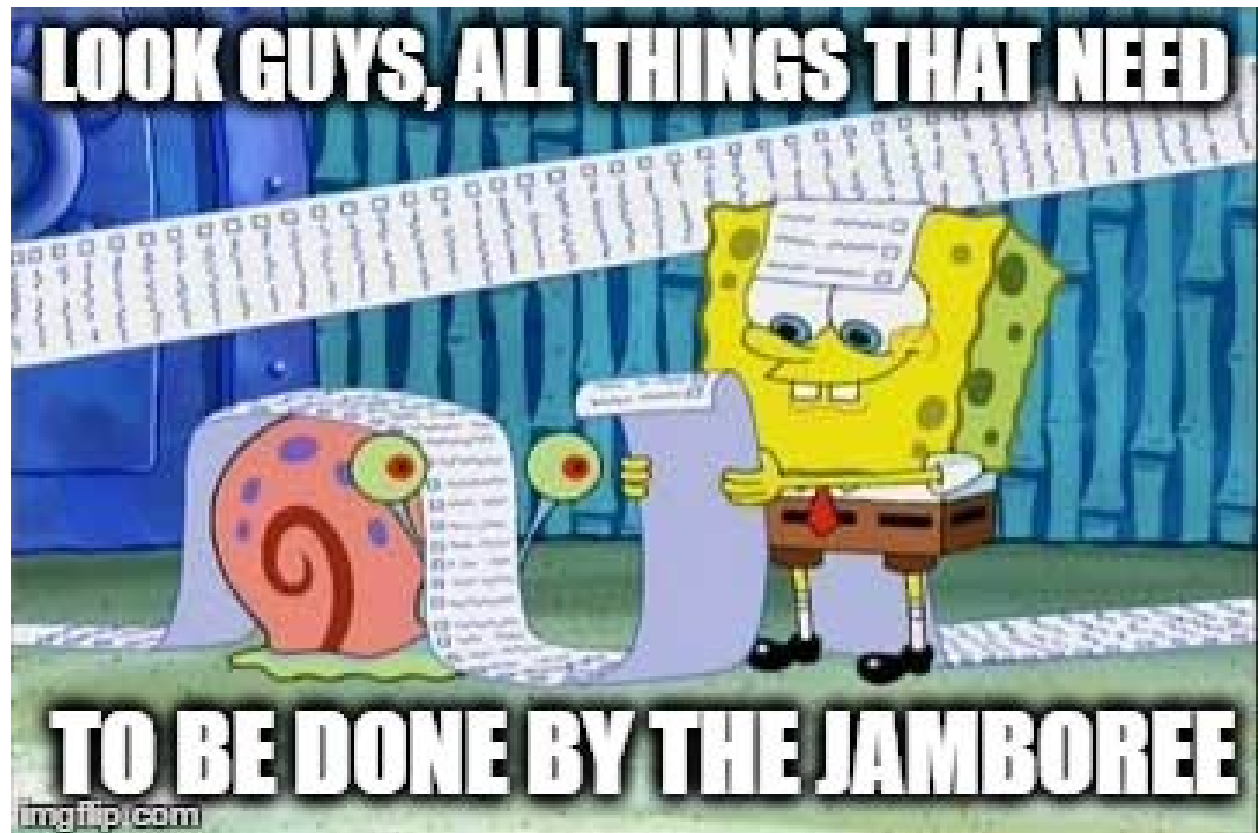

Us in science

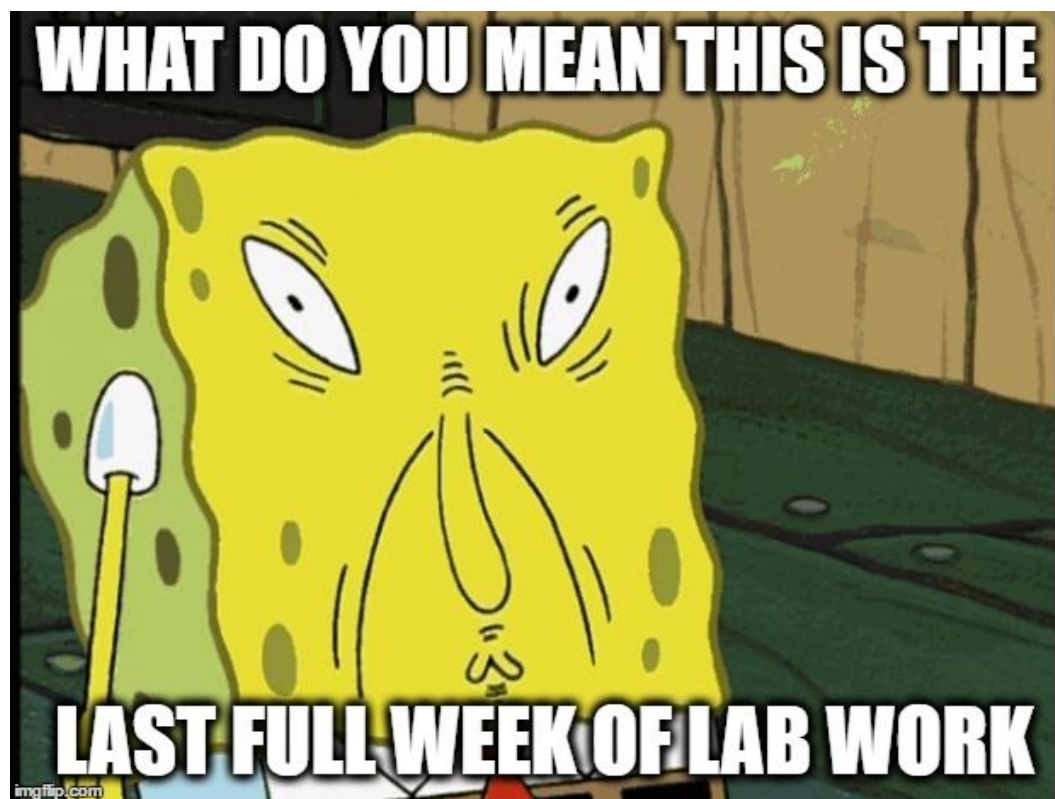

Us in English

August 30th

September 21

“I think you guys need to push a little harder.”

US AT THE BEGINNING OF THE SUMMER

US AT THE END

us

When it's midnight on Sunday and you haven't thought of a good meme

When Rachel went to England